Our expertise

The Medical Resource Network, Inc.SM (MRN) has extensive experience in the medical malpractice and personal injury defense arena and is part of the defense team for many self-insured health care systems, defense attorneys, insurance companies, third party administrators, and government agencies. We provide services for cases throughout the pre-litigation and litigation stages. Our goal is to synthesize complex clinical information into work product that is easily understandable and well researched. In the early stages of claims management, we identify and provide the key medical information which often allows a cost effective, early resolution. When a case is in litigation, our nurse consultants work closely with attorneys and experts to ensure that both the litigation strategy and the litigation support effort evolve in accordance with the changing nature of the case. MRN also has broad experience in expert services support, with a proven track record of identifying, engaging, and managing the right experts for the case.

Proven results

MRN is dedicated to providing superior quality and cost effective services that are customized to meet individual client needs. We can work within tight timelines and meet strict deadlines. MRN identifies, supports and integrates client goals, values and missions to ensure successful outcomes. Our professional staff from around the country has advanced medical and legal knowledge and work experience in a wide range of specialty clinical areas. All of our nurse consultants have advanced degrees, national certifications, or additional education in the areas of law, public health, and nursing. MRN staff members are recognized as professional and community leaders. MRN has an extensive list of local, regional and national clients that continues to grow. Many of our clients have worked with us since the establishment of the company in 1993.

Testimonials

"The nurse consultants at MRN have strong medical backgrounds and analytical skills which they use to identify the medical issues in my cases. MRN is very helpful with early case organization, which I have found to be both cost and time effective."

Claire Hagan, Complex Claims Manager, Providence Health & Services

"The nurse consultants at MRN have proved to be a very valuable and reliable resource for me and invariably make significant contributions to the medical work-up of my cases in litigation."

Larry Brisbee, Attorney at Law, Brisbee & Stockton, LLC

"No matter whether we request a brief explanation over the phone or an in depth evaluation in a more complex case, the nurse consultants at MRN quickly respond with the needed information."
